

BOLTERS MUST GO, ASSERTS MR. TAFT

"Those Who Are Not with Us Are Against Us," President Tells Maryland Editors at the White House.

HE DENOUNCES THE TIMID

Electors Who Would Betray a Trust Rebuked as Dishonest Men—"All We Want Is a Fair Fight," Says Executive, Predicting Success.

[From The Tribune Bureau.]
Washington, Aug. 16.—President Taft put on his fighting clothes to-day. He denounced electors who would betray a trust as "dishonest men," and rebuked those leaders who until recently had declared themselves as Progressive Republicans, but who, owing to the organization of a third party, are afraid openly to declare themselves in favor of either the nominee of the Republican party or the nominee of the "bolters," as he termed the newly formed Progressives. Mr. Taft declared that "those who are not with us are against us," adding that the Republican party stands for the maintenance of the Constitution and for "progress along the lines that the Constitution indicates," for the maintenance of a protective tariff system which shall preserve business as it is conducted, and shall secure as high wages as possible to the wage earners, and a reasonable profit to those who invest their capital.

Wants a Fair Fight.
"All we want is a fair fight," asserted the President, who made his statements in the East Room this afternoon before the Maryland Republican Editorial Association. The President said in part:

Being a party, we are anxious to have the opinions that our party represents put into force in the operation of the government. The only way we can do that is by electing a Congress and a President who will carry them out. Now, that means that we have to be a single party and not a part of two parties. I don't think we are unfair in asking that we be given a chance for a fair fight and in counting those against us who are not with us. To have a man on both sides of the fight when we are on one side is uncomfortable, especially when he is behind you.

Before the convention it is all right that we should differ as to the men best qualified to carry out the principles of the party. But after the convention each voter's influence should carry its proper and proportionate weight in the election of the party's candidates. We have been seeking to find a place in which we could light for our own principles and with our own people and against our own enemies and our friends are. I think we have done well. I am sure, from what I have heard in Maryland, that you have taken long steps in that direction. The principle is that a man who is not with us is against us, and he should get out of the way.

I am glad to say that I have had at luncheon with me to-day Mr. Daugherty, the chairman of the Ohio Republican Committee, and he is carrying out that plan just as you and your committee are authorized Mr. Hanna to do. It is not unjust—it is not unfair. All we ask is a fair fight. A man cannot be in the Republican party and in a third party at the same time, and he should be compelled to make his selection. Regularity, or feeling of regularity, and respect for the Republican party for what it has done and for what it is capable of doing are going to bring over into the Republican party many a man who has been doubtful, and it is going to increase that number. In my judgment, as we approach the election, it is the Republican party that we should make the cleavage as clear as it can be made, so that those who are Republicans shall be Republicans, and those who are with the bolters shall bear their name and title and not be both Republicans and bolters.

AMERICAN AMAZES IRISH

Dublin Wonders at Retinue of New Master of Foxhounds.

[By Cable to The Tribune.]
London, Aug. 17.—The new master of the Westmeath (Ireland) foxhounds, Harry Worcester Smyth, of Massachusetts, arrived in Dublin yesterday from Liverpool. His retinue and equipment caused a sensation at the docks. He was accompanied by his son and seven negro servants, fourteen hunters, three four-wheeled buglies and a sulky. The vehicles were all painted yellow. A big crowd watched the process of disembarkation from the steamer with interest, and among them Smyth showered a handful of silver. The unusual freight was conveyed by special train to Mullingar, where Smyth has leased a house for the hunting season.

BIG MEN BEST HUSBANDS

Small Ones Are Wife Deserters, Says an Expert Observer.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]
Chicago, Aug. 16.—After closely observing the deserted wives who have been in her charge for twenty-five years, Mrs. Anna Murphy, chief police matron, is of the opinion that a young woman should think very carefully before marrying a small man. Big men make the best husbands, and the little men with sharp, thin, pointed noses are especially to be avoided, says the matron.

WANTS TO BE PRESIDENT

Colorado Man Asks to Begin Training as "Politician."

[From The Tribune Bureau.]
Washington, Aug. 16.—A modest citizen of La Junta, Col., has written to the Secretary of the Interior offering his services as a candidate for the Presidency during the coming campaign. He does not wish to enter the field against President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Wilson, but would like to begin training at once as a "politician." His letter, with its original orthography, follows:

I have taken an interest in the political business, and I find the proper way of entering the field, as a politician. I will guess that you know something about it as you have served in office for some time. Of course, I am not looking for a large office like you have, as I would not be contented with such duties. But please put me down for candidate for President of the U. S. on the Republican platform, in the following years, 1916, 1920, 1924. I do not want to hold an office where a secret society man has to hold it. I am opposed to join any Order or vote for any one that has bound himself to any secret society, wishing this to cause an event I remain a true natural born citizen of the United States and a true man for my country.

CLEW TO ROYAL LOOT

Heard Of 3 Days After Robbery at a Leather Gilder's.

[By Cable to The Tribune.]
London, Aug. 17.—A clew has been furnished to the police with regard to the missing dressing bag belonging to Princess Frederick Charles of Hesse, which disappeared, with its contents, from the princess's luggage on Saturday last. A leather gilder states that a well dressed man brought some bags similar to the one belonging to the princess to his establishment on Tuesday and asked if the engraved crown and monogram could be altered. It could not be done, owing to an attempt having already been made to obliterate the crown. The mysterious visitor then left.

GUARD POCANTICO HILLS

Deputy Sheriffs Posted About Rockefeller Estate.

Special deputies from Sheriff Doyle's office are guarding John D. Rockefeller's interests at Pocantico Hills day and night because of threats made against Antonio de Marco, foreman of the laborers employed on the estate, and against Frederick Briggs, Mr. Rockefeller's superintendent.

Several days ago, De Marco discharged several men, who are alleged to have said they would "get even." A few nights ago an attempt was made to burn De Marco's home, and the foreman was so frightened that he left town with his family in the night.

Fearing further trouble, Mr. Briggs wired to Mr. Rockefeller, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., came back from Seal Harbor, Me. An appeal to Sheriff Doyle was made yesterday and he sent men immediately. A private watchman also was posted to guard the superintendent's home.

It is said that several Black Hand men are at Pocantico Hills, and the deputies are anxious lest there be an outbreak among the Italians. They do not believe, however, that Mr. Briggs will be molested.

NAT GOODWIN RECOVERING

Injured Actor Taken to His Home from Hospital.

Los Angeles, Aug. 16.—Nat C. Goodwin, the actor, who was injured yesterday, when his rowboat was dashed on the rocks north of here, is much improved, and his recovery is now assured, according to Dr. Oscar Anderson, of Santa Monica, who is attending him.

Mr. Goodwin was removed late today from the hospital to his home in Santa Monica, and was reported as being nearly free from pain.

HORSE BARES TREASURE

Kicks Up Pieces of Silver and Reveals 143 Coins.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Aug. 16.—A horse kicked a remarkable treasure trove into view on John McEwen's farm, in the Rideau Canal district, on the Canadian side of the St. Lawrence River, to-day. Six pieces of silver flew from the horse's hoof when the animal was being driven over a newly broken field by Colonel Conlin and John Doran. The men jumped into the horse's tracks, and, digging with their hands, they turned up 143 coins—3 Spanish pieces, 1 British, 1 five-franc piece and 138 United States half-dollars.

By English law all treasure trove is added to the public revenue, so the coins have been turned over to the police. They date from 1805 to 1828, and they were found buried in straight rows, standing on edge, only three inches underground. Workmen who built the Rideau Canal were paid in American silver, it being part of the war indemnity paid by the United States to Great Britain. This money was sent to the canal district in kegs, some of which were stolen and never recovered. It is believed the money found to-day is that lost eighty years ago.

DANCED IN A FAIRYLAND

Over 400 Guests Entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Frick.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]
Beverly, Mass., Aug. 16.—The dinner and dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Frick this evening was a decided success, more than four hundred prominent society folk from Newport and Bar Harbor attending. Mr. and Mrs. Frick were assisted in receiving by their daughter, Miss Helen Frick, whose work in establishing the summer home for working girls at Wenham has attracted wide attention.

Sousa's band gave a concert, and following the dinner dancing was in order until midnight on the lawn in front of the house on the water side.

Japanese lanterns and colored incandescent lights transformed the spot into a fairyland. The floral decorations were beautiful, the flowers having been taken from the gardens of the Frick estate, which are among the finest along the North Shore.

HAYES SAYS HE WAS FORBIDDEN TO RAID

Waldo, However, Denies He Issued Such Instructions—Inspectors on Carpet Before Commissioner.

Commissioner Rhinelander Waldo reduced Inspector Cornelius G. Hayes to the rank of captain yesterday and suspended him. Hayes is charged with making a "false official statement as well as for the condition in his district."

The following statement was printed in afternoon papers yesterday as coming from one of the inspectors:

I don't care whether they go into my district or not. Of course, there are disorderly houses in my district. I know it. I have a list of them. But I have explicit orders from Commissioner Waldo not to raid any one of them, not to send anybody into them and not to molest them without a direct order from the commissioner himself. Even when a householder makes a complaint against a disorderly house next door to him I am not to act until I have referred the complaint to the commissioner's office. My duty ends when I send a list of places which, because of outside information, I believe to be disorderly.

The Commissioner called to his private office at Headquarters all the Manhattan inspectors with the exception of George W. McCluskey. He sat quietly at his broad, glass topped desk reading a clipping of the above statement as the inspectors reported and stood awaiting his word. Soon the Commissioner laid aside his newspaper clipping and, looking from one inspector to another, said:

"Gentlemen, listen to what I am about to read."

Then he read the remarks attributed to an inspector. He looked straight at Inspector Cornelius F. Cahalane, then John Daly, William J. Lahey, George F. Titus, Dennis Sweeney, and lastly Hayes.

"Did any of you gentlemen give out for publication the remarks that I have just read? Answer me."

Taken by Surprise.
His remark seemed to take the inspectors by surprise. They looked, each anxiously, into the face of his fellow. Soon one made a denial, then another, until all had repudiated the statement.

"Very well, gentlemen, I am to understand that no one of you is responsible for this printed statement," smoothly asked the Commissioner.

Silently all the inspectors, arrayed in their ornate full dress uniforms, filed from the private office. Hayes was the last man to step toward the door. Before opening the door the inspector

MAY BARE GRAFT SENSATION

Reported Trying to Get Into Immediate Touch with Whitman—Police Officials Involved in Gambling Scandal Also Profited from Vice—Goff to Preside at Trials.

Police Inspector Cornelius G. Hayes, commander of the Fourth Inspection District, was reduced to the rank of captain and then suspended yesterday by Commissioner Rhinelander Waldo, because he told him that the responsibility for the conditions which led to the wholesale raids on disorderly houses Thursday night rested with the Commissioner.

It was reported last night that Hayes was making every effort to get into immediate touch with Mr. Whitman. If he goes over to the District Attorney, according to those in touch with the general police graft situation, disclosures of the most sensational character will follow.

Mr. Whitman has information which leads him to believe that the police graft from disorderly houses went to practically the same men whose names have been mentioned as the recipients of gambling house graft, and he believes that Inspector Hayes, if he will tell all he knows, can lay bare the whole structure of police graft.

Commissioner Waldo suspended Hayes on charges of "making a false official statement, as well as for conditions in his district."

Back of the official phraseology, however, lies the same indignation on the part of Commissioner Waldo which resulted in the summoning of Lieutenants Costigan and Reilly to the Commissioner's office after they had testified before the grand jury. Each of these lieutenants denied by statement and affidavit that they had ever blamed the Commissioner for "conditions."

Inspectors, instead of lieutenants, were on the carpet before the Commissioner yesterday, when he found the afternoon papers had quoted "an inspector" as saying that these conditions—referring to the conditions that made necessary the raids by Mr. Smith—were an outcome of the Commissioner's orders.

HANDS DIPPED IN BOTH.

Further developments in the District Attorney's investigation of police graft from disorderly houses disclosed the fact that most of the police officials involved in the gambling graft were also implicated in the other. The District Attorney's office has information that one of the graft collectors, other than "Jack" Rose, now under arrest handled the fund of $2,500 a month which was paid by the disorderly house trust for protection.

On a more expensive plane than the line of houses controlled by the trust which Assistant District Attorney Smith attacked Thursday night, Mr. Whitman has learned, lies another syndicate, in control of which are four men, three of whom have been summoned to the District Attorney's office within the last few days.

It was learned yesterday that "Jack" Rose gave Mr. Whitman the tip which started the District Attorney on the real trail of the disorderly house graft, the trail that Mr. Smith followed on Thursday night, and which is only another branch of the gambling house graft.

Frank Moss, Assistant District Attorney, said yesterday that the Rose confession printed recently in a morning paper, and alleged to be his full confession to the District Attorney, was in reality only a portion of the information that Rose gave to Mr. Whitman. It is understood that in his published statement Rose intentionally left out all reference to the disorderly house graft about which Becker and "Jack" Sullivan had frequently told him.

"Sam" Schepps will reach Buffalo to-day, and, leaving there to-night, will arrive in New York early Monday morning. He will be taken to the West Side prison, where Mr. Whitman will interrogate him.

JUSTICE GOFF DESIGNATED.

Justice Goff was designated by Governor Dix to preside over an extraordinary term of the Supreme Court, Criminal Branch, which will handle all the murder cases in the Rosenthal affair, including, of course, that of Lieutenant Charles Becker.

Word of a fund of $250 collected from the cheaper gambling houses of Harlem for "Gib the Blood" reached Police Headquarters yesterday. Deputy Dougherty had a score of detectives around 116th street and Lenox avenue last night, hoping to catch the fugitive.

Mayor Gaynor issued the call for a special meeting of the Board of Estimate on next Monday morning, to vote on the $25,000 appropriation for the Curran aldermanic inquiry into police affairs. Many aldermen declared that the Mayor's attack on the board in his speech Thursday night was nothing but an attempt to begot the issue and distract attention from the charges of police corruption.

Alderman John A. Bolles declared that if Mayor Gaynor chose to do so he could have all the gambling and disorderly houses in town closed, and added that if John Purroy Mitchel had had opportunity he would have shown the city that the hands of a Mayor, or even of an acting Mayor, were not "tied."

The Citizens' Committee, the outgrowth of the Cooper Union mass meeting, was enlarged to take in members from all boroughs. Jacob H. Schiff was elected treasurer.

District Attorney Whitman's investigators discovered yesterday that in two banks Lieutenant Becker deposited, between November, 1911, and July, 1912, $10,000 in addition to the fund of more than $50,000 discovered last week. Two more banks in the city, which have informed Mr. Whitman that they have records of Becker deposits on hand, remain to be investigated, and it is believed that additional Becker thrift will be disclosed when three out of town banks are heard from in detail.
